V. Explanation

The seagull (Larus delawarensis) population in the Chicago region has increased exponentially in recent decades. With this population increase has come higher numbers of gulls on Chicago’s beaches, which has been linked to an increase in swim advisories that limit the public’s enjoyment of Lake Michigan. Numerous studies have made clear the detrimental impact that gulls have on the health, safety and economic viability of beaches throughout the region.

In 2008, the Chicago Park District began full-time canine harassment of gulls 63rd Street Beach in Jackson Park. This beach has a history of high levels of swim advisories linked to the seagull population at the beach. 63rd Street Beach is Chicago’s most embayed beach, and the resulting shallow slope and slow moving current traps bacteria deposited by gulls in the swimming area.

Canine harassment, in which trained handlers use dogs to chase the gulls off of the beach, has resulted in a dramatic reduction in the number of swim advisories at 63rd Street Beach. The chart below shows the rate of advisories each year since 2006. Years in which canine harassment was implemented are shown in bold.

Percent of days under water quality swim advisory at 63rd Street Beach

38 %	46 %	4%	48 %	15 %	6%	13%	10%

This contract will include canine harassment at 63rd and 57th Street Beaches and the installation of structural controls to deter gulls at beaches. This work is funded in part by a grant from the US Environmental Protection Agency, which supports this method of protecting public health at swimming beaches.

Aramark Management Services, LP, has performed this work for CPD since the program began in 2008. CPD has been pleased with the quality of work provided. Therefore, it is in the best interest of the Chicago Park District to recommend Aramark Management Services, LP for the award for the Avian Wildlife Management Services Contract.
